It takes 94 faculty, staff, and program volunteers to make the arts come alive for the children at the Neighborhood Art House! That is what Sister Annette Marshall, Executive Director, realized while assembling the invitation list for the Recognition Reception held October 28 to honor faculty and program volunteers involved, particularly those marking their 5th, 10th, or 15th year at NAH. The reception, hosted by Women’s Core Committee members Karen Clark, Lynne Elia and Becky Hilbert was a well-received opportunity for the Art House to say “thank you” to everyone, be they from the Neighborhood Art House founders who brought the dream to life in 1995 or those who started with the Art House this past September.

From the Desk of Sister Annette

During the year-end holiday season we tend to get caught up in finding just the right gift for this person or that. This is a good thing. The care that we take in our gift-giving is a sign of the love and respect that we have for the recipient. But there is more to a gift. The very act of giving creates a bond between giver and receiver. So it is with us here at the Neighborhood Art House. When our volunteers and donors gift us with their time and support they become an integral part of all that is done here on behalf of the children.

“As we express our gratitude, we must never forget that the highest appreciation is not to utter words, but to live by them.”

John Fitzgerald Kennedy

As the recipient of your gifts, we recognize that it is not enough to say “thank you.” Along with the gift itself and its resulting connection to you, comes our responsibility to steward your gift wisely to further our mission. Together we can do great things for the children we serve.

NAH ACTIVITIES

HOSTS RECOGNITION RECEPTION

The Women’s Core Committee, the Neighborhood Art House advisory board, recently welcomed four new members, Lisa Chrisly and Karen Clark (pictured right) along with Lynne Elia and Susan D’Orio. Since starting in the establishment of the Art House 16 years ago, the Core Committee continues to foster new NAH friends, sponsor the annual Taste of the Arts, and participate in Art House future planning.

Featuring a New NAH Teacher

Peggy Brace comes to the Neighborhood Art House after eight years of experience on the faculties of the State University of New York at Jamestown and Mercyhurst College. Erie, Penn State Erie, the Behrend Campus; and the Jefferson Educational Society. She is K-12 certified in Art Education and has taught in the Erie City and County schools as well as in Cincinnati, Ohio. Peggy is currently teaching Acrylic Painting to her students and comments that “NAH students show a lot of ability and aesthetic sense. The Art-House gives them a perfect atmosphere to recognize and hone their understanding and skill, and to grow in confidence.”

Welcome, Peggy!

ORGANIZATION SUPPORT

Whether donations to the Neighborhood Art House are made through PA Education Improvement Tax Credits, sponsorship of Taste of the Arts or Art and Sole, grant funding for particular Art House programs, special events or in-kind donations, it is with full hearts that we express our gratitude for the businesses and organizations that support NAH programming.

Neighborhood Art House children help Karla Murray of Patterson/Erie Corp. show off her presentation check representing a contribution of $9,000 from Burger King through the PA Education Improvement Tax Credit program. Other businesses contributing through the PA EITC program this year are: Bayside Development Corp., C.A. Curtze Co., Erie Insurance Group, MacDonald Illig Jones and Britton, Marquette Savings Bank, PNC Bank, Scott Enterprises and Waste Management Inc.

Gannon’s One Green World Café developed and operated by international and local students as an environmentally sustainable business, accepts tips to be given to a local charity. The Neighborhood Art House is honored to be the first charity chosen to receive these contributions.

Custom Engineering named the Neighborhood Art House as their charity in the Erie Insurance Charity Challenge. Congratulations to David Tullio, Jim Ohrn, George Clark and Andy Tompkins who took 2nd place in this golfing event.

Char Mashyna, ArtErie Executive Director, left, and Patti Eichen, NAH Development Staff, pause for a picture at “Fall for the Arts” at which two grants for NAH were announced, one from the Clarence E. Beyers Music Performance Fund and the other an ArtsErie Project Grant.

Taste of the Arts Co-chairpersons Bobbi Pollock and Lisa Chinsky display Sierra Heidelbert’s tempera painting, Day and Night, which was raffled during the live auction. Day and Night, was the inspiration for this year’s theme.

Threaded throughout the stage performance, poetry and dance were poetry enactments by students and by the audience as well. Stunng pieces contributed by generous and renowned artists for the silent auction, Day and Night a delightful tempera painting by Sierra Heidelbert, (age 10) for the live auction, a raffle of cash and a seasonal celebration basket, and over 45 framed pieces of art work contributed by the children assured that there was “something for everyone.”

SINCERE GRATITUDE

Thank you to all those who so generously supported Taste of the Arts 2011. This gives the Neighborhood Art House reason to celebrate throughout all the seasons.

New NAH Poetry Book Sets Theme

Student poets Senior Bailey and Shane McClelland sign Imagine the Seasons during Taste of the Arts. “I feel like a star!” proclaimed one of the student poets when asked about the poetry book signing. Poetry students of Sister Mary Lou Kownacki had focused their field trips and their writing on the four seasons of the year. Publication of Imagine the Seasons was funded in part by a grant from the Schuster Re-Grant Initiative-Gannon University and by Printing Concepts, Inc.
